Message From Our Principal

C. L. MACKEY
PRINCIPAL
VIVIAN HIGH SCHOOL
VIVIAN, LOUISIANA

December 21

Seniors of 1951, you, no doubt, are somewhat disturbed by the fact that it is difficult for you to make plans for your future with any great degree of certainty. The condition of the world does not appear to be improving. We still do not know whether we shall engage in another world war nor how soon it will come. While it is not inevitable, the fact that the whole world is getting prepared makes it the more likely to come.

We wish that, since you are completing your high school work, you could decide whether to try to find some suitable work, or to go to college and make further preparation for your life work. No doubt, some of you will be called into military service before a very long time. If so, we hope that you will give good service to your country. We wish that you may return safely.

Since so many people will be needed in industry, those of you who do not go into military service may be able to help by doing work in plants making war materials.

We have enjoyed working with you, and we wish you success in your work, in spite of the disturbed condition of world affairs.

Homecoming Queen

Bettye Idom

Homecoming, celebrated annually as the outstanding event of the school year, is a tradition that has been a part of the school's life for many years. The queen herself is always a member of the senior class, which sponsors the activity in addition to a parade in the afternoon and a dance at night. Since the school's inception, many have enjoyed the festivities, but it is one that comes to comparatively few.

Ann Cox, Kay Kavanaugh, Jeanette Holbrook, Patsy Leach journeyed to Gainesville, Georgia, to attend the Editor Round-table Conference held at Brenau College early in September.

The Conference was southwider and students from seven Southern States were in attendance. The four students from Vivian were the only representatives from Louisiana.

Ann was chosen as spokeswoman for the four and was interviewed by the radio network.

Eastman's Kodak Company A. L. Tolson, head of Eastman Camera Club was on the campus and gave some good ideas for posing pictures. FASHION FADS—

Fred is here but you couldn't tell it by the weather. It is very hot and most of the girls are all wearing their Friday dresses and pretty bright colored skirts. Peggy Terry, Wadene Moseley, of the Swifley, Penny Hart, Jean Johnson, Francis Cox and John and John Jones are some of the ones bragging the lands off, wearing them.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was organized for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism and allied fields.

The Ernie Pyle Chapter of Quill and Scroll was organized in Vivian in 1945. A student must be of Senior standing, he must be in the upper third of his class in general scholastic standing, he must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor, he must be recommended by the adviser and approved by the Executive Secretary.

ATTEND JOURNALISM CONFERENCE

Four members of Vivian's publication staffs left on September 7 for Brenau College in Gainesville, Georgia, to attend a southwide journalistic confab.

Seven states were represented, Louisiana having only four. The girls from Vivian who were interested in learning more about make-up of a school paper and yearbook. The program for the conference was well-rounded with speakers and photographers from the Associated Press, NEA-Acme Newspictures and Eastman Kodak Company.

The highlight of the meeting was the field trip by all those in attendance to Atlanta, Georgia, via bus, to see the facilities of THE JOURNAL, one of Atlanta's largest newspapers, The Associated Press and Acme Newspictures.

LUNCHROOM DIRECTORS

The mad dash to the cafeteria each day at noon is evidence of the delicious meals warm, appetizing, and well-balanced, that are served by the cafeteria staff

SCHOOL BUSES

Eleven modern school buses operate over the community each day to bring more than fifty per cent of Vivian's student body.

Trained mechanics are on duty each day to keep the school buses in this area as well as the northern part of the parish in operation.

Mr. William F. Hartline, head of the Parish Garage in North Louisiana, has as his able assistants, Mr. Guy Choate and Mr. Rex Sullivan who drives the gasoline service trucks.

Building Custodians

Mr. C. C. Blanchard, right, has been serving our school as chief custodian for fifteen years. His willingness and eagerness to help the Staff members solve the many problems pertinent to that position has created a sincere friendship among this group. His untiring patience with the student body—sawing off locks, helping to locate lost articles and his genial interest in them—have made him a distinct part of our everyday at school.

Mr. R. C. Hartzo, left, though having been with us only three years, is always ready to cooperate with the Staff and student body. His dependability and many abilities have made him an essential person in our school.
